INTRODUCTION

Focusing on UN SDGs, MMF speaks of and works for voice of neglected segments of society while following UDHR and Islamic International Declaration of Human rights

Masajid & Madaris Foundation (Reforming Masajid & Madaris for Social Change) is a registered educational, training and welfare organization that apart from establishing Mosques and Madrassas in different backward regions of Kashmir and Northern Areas, also works for Qura'nic and formal education of girls and boys. The foundation also endeavors to establish modern educational institutions that would provide a beautiful blend of modern and Islamic studies to prepare a child for this world and the hereafter as a goal.

We at Masajid & Madaris Foundation also patronize Aima and Preachers and organize educational workshops for teachers, preachers and Aima in order to get better results in the education and training of people during the process of Islamic Da'wa and Tableegh. The foundation aims to revive mosques' real role of peace, harmony, care and justice to establish a proper system to offer prayer and change Mosques into Islamic teaching and training institutions.

Praying five times a day in the Masjid fosters discipline, unity, and spiritual growth while offering immense social, psychological, and physical benefits. It strengthens brotherhood, removes social barriers, and provides emotional support. The structured routine enhances focus, mindfulness, and time management, while walking to the Masjid promotes physical health. Spiritually, it earns 27 times more reward, invites angels' prayers, and protects from hypocrisy. It also brings divine mercy and serves as a path to

BACKGROUND

The Masajid (mosques) and Madaris (religious schools) hold a pivotal position in Islamic societies, not only serving as centers of worship but also as institutions for education, social guidance, and community building. In Islam, the mosque is considered a place of tranquility, where individuals seek spiritual growth, and it is a hub for the development of both personal and societal values. Similarly, Madaris are integral to preserving Islamic knowledge, character building, offering religious education, and cultivating future generations of scholars and community leaders.

However, in the context of Pakistan, there is an urgent need to reform these institutions to align them with the current demands of society. A number of factors have led to the neglect of Masajid and Madaris, such as mismanagement, sectarian influences, and isolated actions of a few individuals that have negatively impacted the image of these institutions. Consequently, many of these places of learning and worship are deprived of government support, as well as international funding, which limits their ability to meet the evolving needs of society. The absence of modern infrastructure and training also prevents these institutions from playing an active role in the nation's development.

7) Masajid & Madaris Foundation (MMF)

WHY MASAJID & MADARIS

Join Hands with MMF for a Balanced Society

Importance of Masajid and Madaris

The importance of Masajid and Madaris in a society cannot be overstated. From an Islamic point of view, these institutions are not only sacred spaces for religious practice but also play a key role in educating individuals, promoting social justice, and fostering a sense of community. In Islam, knowledge is considered one of the greatest virtues, and acquiring both religious and worldly knowledge is highly encouraged. The Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) emphasized the importance of education, stating, "Seeking knowledge is obligatory for every Muslim" (Sunan Ibn Majah). This highlights that learning, in all its forms, is an essential part of an individual's development and the overall progress of society.

What Is to Be Done?

Islamic education should not be limited to religious studies alone but should also incorporate subjects that address the practical aspects of modern life, such as Montessori education, technology, vocational skills, human rights, and sustainable development. By integrating such fields into the curricula of Madaris, the educational model can evolve to meet the diverse needs of society. This approach would empower Ulema (Islamic scholars) and religious teachers to not only provide spiritual guidance but also contribute to economic development, social justice, and peace-building efforts.

To establish Montessori labs, IT centers, and vocational training centers within Masajid and Madaris is an innovative step in this direction. By equipping students with the tools for digital literacy and practical skills, these institutions can offer a more comprehensive education. Furthermore, training Ulema and religious teachers in modern approaches to human rights, social welfare, and sustainable development will enable them to lead their communities toward a more just and prosperous society.

In an Islamic society, there is a strong emphasis on fostering harmony, justice, and mutual respect among its members. By reforming Masajid and Madaris to embrace these modern educational and developmental objectives, the foundations of peace, progress, and social cohesion can be strengthened. Ulema and religious teachers, as leaders of their communities, can play a crucial role in creating awareness about the importance of development, social justice, and peaceful coexistence, in line with the values of Islam.

In conclusion, the reform of Masajid and Madaris is not only necessary for the advancement of society but also in alignment with the broader goals of Islam, which seeks to improve the well-being of humanity. By empowering these institutions with modern tools and approaches, Pakistan's religious schools and mosques can become engines of positive change, leading the way for a harmonious, prosperous, and just society that reflects the true spirit of Islam.

HIFZ CENTRES FOR POOR

Join Hands with MMF for a Balanced Society

11) Masajid & Madaris Foundation (MMF)

Hifz centers play a crucial role in Islamic societies by cultivating a deep understanding and appreciation of the Quran. Here are some key reasons why they are important:

- Preservation of the Quran: Hifz centers ensure the continued preservation and transmission of the Quran across generations. Hafizes (those who have memorized the Quran) act as living repositories of the sacred text.
- Spiritual Growth: The process of memorizing the Quran fosters spiritual growth and strengthens the bond between individuals and God. It promotes reflection, contemplation, and a deeper understanding of Islamic teachings.
- Community Development: Hifz centers often serve as hubs for the community, fostering a sense of togetherness and shared purpose. They provide opportunities for social interaction, mentorship, and the exchange of knowledge.
- Educational Foundation: The rigorous training involved in memorizing the Quran develops essential skills such as discipline, focus, and memory retention, which can benefit students in other areas of their lives.

- Leadership Development: Hafizes are often respected members of their communities and can play a significant role in guiding and inspiring others. They may become teachers, scholars, or community leaders.

Masjid Madaris Foundation's establishment of over 30 Hifz centers demonstrates a commitment to these principles. By providing accessible opportunities for Quran memorization, the foundation is contributing to the spiritual, intellectual, and social well-being of its communities as these communities are those deprived of well beingness and most of these students belong to poor, needy and vulnerable families.

WHY RELIGIOUS EDUCATION IS NEEDED?

The Modern world has experienced that religious education is often seen as crucial for the new generation and the common man for several reasons:

13) Masajid & Madaris Foundation (MMF)

- Character Building and Moral Compass: It provides a foundation for ethical behavior, instilling values like honesty, compassion, and respect.
- Regulation and Responsible Attitude: Religious teachings often emphasize self-discipline, accountability, and fulfilling one's duties.
- Positive Behavior and Social Harmony: By promoting virtues and discouraging vices, it can contribute to a more peaceful and harmonious society with reduced social crimes.
- Focus on the Hereafter and Righteous Deeds: Many religions encourage believers to prioritize spiritual rewards and engage in good actions.
- Mental Well-being: Religious beliefs and practices can foster positive thinking, inner peace, and resilience in the face of life's challenges.

14) Masajid & Madaris Foundation (MMF)

- Family and Community: Many religions stress the importance of strong family ties and community bonds, contributing to social stability.

In essence, religious education is viewed as a holistic approach to shaping individuals, promoting personal responsibility, and fostering a moral and ethical society.

WATER TANKS FOR SAFE DRINKING WATER

MMF realizes that due to scarcity of water day by day, water tanks and handpumps are lifelines in drought-stricken areas, providing access to a basic human necessity: clean water. Why MMF took these projects so important:

Join Hands with MMF for a Balanced Society

- Survival: Water is essential for human survival. In drought-prone regions, access to clean water can be scarce and unreliable. Water tanks and handpumps provide a reliable source of water for drinking, cooking, and hygiene, preventing dehydration and waterborne diseases.
- Sanitation and Hygiene: Access to clean water is crucial for maintaining basic sanitation and hygiene. It allows communities to wash hands, clean clothes, and maintain proper hygiene practices, reducing the spread of diseases.
- Livelihoods: In many drought-affected areas, agriculture is a primary source of livelihood. Water tanks and handpumps can be used for irrigation, enabling communities to continue farming and sustain their livelihoods even during dry periods.
- Education: Lack of access to clean water can significantly impact children's education. When children are tasked with fetching water from long distances, it can disrupt their schooling. Water tanks and handpumps located near schools or communities can improve school attendance and educational outcomes.

- Women's Empowerment: In many cultures, women are primarily responsible for fetching water. Water tanks and handpumps can reduce the time and effort required to collect water, freeing up women's time for other activities, such as education, income-generating activities, or childcare.

Masjid Madaris Foundation's initiative to establish 221 water tanks and handpumps is a commendable effort to address the critical water needs of drought-affected communities. By providing access to clean water, the foundation is not only improving the lives of these communities but also contributing to their long-term resilience and sustainability.

WATER BORINGS & HAND PUMPS

Boring projects, which involve drilling deep into the earth to access groundwater, are crucial for both the environment and the livelihoods of communities, especially in drought-ridden and impoverished areas. Here's why:

Environmental Benefits:

- Sustainable Water Source: Boring projects provide access to a reliable and sustainable source of water, reducing dependence on surface water sources that are often vulnerable to drought and pollution.

- Groundwater Recharge: Properly managed boreholes can contribute to groundwater recharge, helping to replenish aquifers and maintain the long-term health of the water table.
- Reduced Environmental Impact: By reducing reliance on surface water, boring projects can help to protect rivers, lakes, and wetlands from overuse and pollution.

Livelihood Benefits:

- Improved Water Access: Access to clean water through boreholes improves sanitation, hygiene, and overall health, reducing the burden of waterborne diseases and improving quality of life.
- Increased Agricultural Productivity: Borehole water can be used for irrigation, enabling communities to cultivate crops even during dry periods, boosting agricultural productivity and food security.
- Economic Development: Access to water can facilitate the development of small-scale industries and businesses, creating employment opportunities and improving the economic well-being of communities.

Masjid Madaris Foundation's undertaking of 310 boring projects demonstrates a commitment to addressing the critical water needs of drought-affected communities and promoting sustainable development. By providing access to clean water, the foundation is not only improving the lives of these communities but also contributing to the long-term health of the environment.

ISLAMIC DAWAH COLLEGES

20) Masajid & Madaris Foundation (MMF)

The establishment of formal education centers, like the 10 Islamic Dawah Colleges by Masjid Madaris Foundation, alongside Masajid & Madaris, holds significant importance for several reasons:

- Holistic Development: It promotes a balanced approach to education, combining religious teachings with secular knowledge. This ensures that students receive a well-rounded education, preparing them for both spiritual and worldly pursuits.
- Mainstream Integration: These colleges can act as bridges between traditional Islamic education and the mainstream education system. They can help students acquire the necessary skills and qualifications to succeed in higher education and the job market.
- Combating Extremism: By providing a platform for quality education and critical thinking, these centers can help counter the spread of extremism and radical ideologies. They can instill a sense of tolerance, understanding, and social responsibility among students.

- Community Development: These colleges can serve as centers of learning and community engagement, fostering a culture of knowledge and intellectual growth within the surrounding neighborhoods. They can also provide opportunities for skill development and vocational training, empowering individuals and communities.
- Preserving Islamic Heritage: These centers can play a vital role in preserving and promoting Islamic heritage and culture. They can provide a platform for the study of Islamic history, literature, and sciences, ensuring that these traditions are passed on to future generations.

As a part of reforming Masajid & Madaris from MMF, the establishment of formal education centers alongside Masajid & Madaris is a crucial step towards creating a more inclusive and progressive Islamic society. It provides a pathway for students to acquire both religious and secular knowledge, empowering them to become responsible citizens and contribute positively to their communities.

ORPHANS' CARE

MMF realized that supporting vulnerable communities is a cornerstone of both Islamic principles and fundamental human values. Here's why:

Islamic Perspective:

- Zakat and Sadaqah: Islam emphasizes the importance of giving back to the less fortunate through Zakat (obligatory charity) and Sadaqah (voluntary charity). These acts of compassion are considered essential for spiritual purification and societal balance.

---

- Social Justice: The Quran and Sunnah repeatedly stress the importance of social justice and caring for the poor, orphans, widows, and other vulnerable members of society.
- Building a Just Society: Supporting the vulnerable is seen as a collective responsibility to build a just and equitable society where everyone has the opportunity to thrive.

Humanitarian Perspective:

- Basic Human Rights: Every human being, regardless of their background or circumstances, deserves access to basic necessities like food, shelter, education, and healthcare. Supporting vulnerable communities is about upholding these fundamental human rights.
- Social Cohesion: When we support those in need, we foster a sense of community and solidarity. This strengthens social bonds and creates a more compassionate and inclusive society.
- Breaking the Cycle of Poverty: By providing education, skills training, and other forms of support, we can help vulnerable individuals and families break free from the cycle of poverty and build a better future for themselves.

Masjid Madaris Foundation's (MMF) sponsorship of over 2020 orphans exemplifies these principles in action. By providing educational and financial support to these children, MMF is not only fulfilling its religious and moral obligations but also investing in the future of a more just and equitable society.

ESTABLISHMENT OF LIBRARIES

Foundation realized that public libraries play a vital role in supporting education in numerous ways and aimed to establish these libraries as the new generation has left reading the books because of social media. MMF knows that the libraries has significant role in the society such as:-

- Free Access to Information: Libraries provide free access to a wide range of resources, including books, journals, newspapers, magazines, and online databases. This access is crucial for students of all ages, from elementary school children to university students and lifelong learners.
- Literacy Development: Libraries are crucial for promoting literacy. They offer a variety of programs and resources to support early childhood literacy development, such as story times, reading programs, and age-appropriate books. They also provide resources and support for adult literacy programs.
- Research and Learning: Libraries provide the resources and environment necessary for research and learning. Students can use library resources to conduct research for school projects, explore topics of interest, and expand their knowledge.
- Lifelong Learning: Libraries support lifelong learning by providing access to a wide range of educational materials and programs for adults, including online courses, workshops, and lectures.

- Digital Literacy: In today's digital age, libraries play an essential role in promoting digital literacy. They provide access to computers, the internet, and digital resources, and offer training programs on how to use these technologies effectively.
- Community Hubs: Libraries serve as community hubs, providing a welcoming space for people of all ages to gather, learn, and connect. They often host community events, such as book clubs, author talks, and film screenings, which promote intellectual and cultural enrichment.

By providing free access to information, promoting literacy, and supporting lifelong learning, public libraries are essential institutions for educational and societal development.

The Masjid & Madaris Foundation's initiative to establish public libraries within their Masajid & Madaris is commendable. By making these libraries accessible to both students and the wider public, they are contributing to the intellectual and cultural enrichment of their communities and fostering a love of learning.

IFTAR DINNERS AND MEAT DISTRIBUTION

MMF believes that Iftar dinners and meat distribution for vulnerable families are essential for several reasons:

- Nutritional Support: Iftar dinners provide much-needed sustenance to those who may otherwise go hungry during the long hours of fasting in Ramadan. Meat distribution on Eid offers a valuable source of protein, particularly beneficial for children and the elderly.
- Social Solidarity: These initiatives foster a sense of community and shared responsibility within society. They highlight the importance of supporting those less fortunate, especially during times of religious and cultural significance.

28) Masajid & Madaris Foundation (MMF)

- Spiritual Reward: In Islamic tradition, feeding the hungry is considered a highly virtuous act. Sharing meals and providing sustenance to those in need is believed to bring blessings and spiritual rewards.

By providing Iftar dinners and meat distribution, the Masajid & Madaris Foundation has made a significant impact on the lives of 10,000 individuals, addressing their basic needs and promoting a culture of compassion and generosity.

FREE MEDICAL CAMPS

The Masajid & Madaris Foundation (MMF) has undertaken a significant and commendable project focused on improving health awareness and providing basic healthcare facilities to underserved rural communities while involving the existing local NGOs across the state of Azad Kashmir. Leveraging its extensive network of 160 Masajid and Madaris, the MMF is organizing free medical camps across the twin cities (Islamabad and Rawalpindi), Gilgit Baltistan, and every district of Azad Kashmir. This initiative strategically involves the Imams and Islamic teachers associated with these institutions in raising health awareness within their local congregations and communities.

Description of the Project

This multi-faceted project where MMF did an integrated healthcare and awareness campaign that utilizing its existing social and religious infrastructure to deliver essential medical services and health education to rural populations. The key components of this project likely include:

- Free Medical Camps: The cornerstone of the project involves setting up temporary medical camps in easily accessible locations within rural areas, often within or near the MMF's network of Masajid and Madaris. These camps are likely to offer a range of basic medical services such as general health check-ups, diagnosis of common ailments, basic treatments, and the provision of free medication.
- Involvement of Imams and Islamic Teachers: A unique and impactful aspect of this project is the active participation of Imams and Islamic teachers. These respected figures within the community are being engaged to raise awareness about important health issues, hygiene practices, disease prevention, and the availability of the free medical camps. Their influence and trusted position within the community can significantly improve health literacy and encourage people to utilize the medical services offered.

- Geographical Reach: The project's extensive geographical coverage, encompassing the twin cities, the remote region of Gilgit Baltistan, and all districts of Azad Kashmir, demonstrates a commitment to reaching a wide spectrum of rural communities often marginalized in terms of healthcare access.
- Community Engagement: By anchoring the awareness campaigns and medical camps within the local Masajid and Madaris, the project fosters strong community engagement and ownership. This approach can help build trust and ensure the sustainability of health-seeking behaviors.

- Potential Partnerships: While not explicitly mentioned, such large-scale projects often involve collaborations with healthcare professionals (doctors, nurses, paramedics), local health authorities, and possibly other non-governmental organizations to ensure the quality and effectiveness of the medical services provided.

CLIMATE CHANGE AWARENESS PROJECT

To experts it was fantastic to hear about the Masajid & Madaris Foundation's proactive approach to addressing climate change! Leveraging our extensive network of mosques and religious schools is a powerful way to reach communities across Pakistan and raise crucial awareness. Its must to elaborate on this significant project and underscore its importance while highlighting the key components of climate change. The Ulemas and Imams were advised to quote these verses during their addresses:

Join Hands with MMF for a Balanced Society

As elaborated by Holy Quran....

Allah as the Sender of Rain:

The Quran consistently emphasizes that Allah is the one who sends down rain from the sky. This is mentioned in many verses, including:

- Surah Al-Baqarah (2:22): "Who has made the earth a resting place for you, and the sky as a canopy, and sent down water (rain) from the sky and brought forth therewith fruits as a provision for you."
- Surah An-Nahl (16:10): "He is the One Who sends down rain from the sky, from which you drink and by which plants grow for your cattle to graze."
- Surah An-Nahl (16:65): "And Allah sends down rain from the sky, giving life to the earth after its death. Surely in this is a sign for those who listen."

These verses underscore the divine origin and the life-giving nature of rain.

Elaboration of the MMF's Climate Change Awareness Project:

The Masajid & Madaris Foundation (MMF) has recognized the urgent need to address climate change, particularly given Pakistan's vulnerability to its impacts. Their project strategically utilizes their existing infrastructure and influence within communities to disseminate information and promote action. The key elements of this initiative appear to be:

1. Weekly Awareness through Jummatul Mubarak Sermons: This involves incorporating messages about climate change, its causes, impacts on Pakistan, and potential solutions into the Friday sermons delivered at mosques across their network of over 160 locations. This ensures a consistent and widespread reach to the regular congregation.
2. Organized Seminars within Mosques: MMF is conducting seminars and workshops on the challenges of climate change and necessary remedies within the mosque premises. This provides a more focused and interactive platform for deeper engagement and learning. These seminars likely involve knowledgeable speakers, discussions, and potentially the distribution of informative materials.

3. Leveraging the Network of Masajid & Madaris: The strength of this project lies in MMF's established network. Mosques and Madaris hold significant social and religious importance in Pakistani communities. Utilizing these spaces lends credibility and facilitates the dissemination of information to a broad audience, including those who may not typically engage with mainstream environmental campaigns.
4. Focus on Pakistan's Specific Context: By highlighting how Pakistan is particularly affected by climate change – through increased flooding, deforestation, and water scarcity – MMF is making the issue relatable and urgent for local communities.

Importance of the MMF's Climate Change Awareness Project:

Join Hands with MMF for a Balanced Society

37) Masajid & Madaris Foundation (MMF)

This initiative by the Masajid & Madaris Foundation holds immense importance for several compelling reasons:

- Reaching Grassroots Communities: Religious institutions often have deep roots within communities and can effectively reach individuals who might be less accessible through traditional media or government campaigns. This grassroots approach is crucial for fostering widespread understanding and action.
- Building Trust and Credibility: Messages delivered from religious platforms often carry significant moral weight and trust within communities. This can lead to greater receptiveness and engagement with the issue of climate change compared to secular sources alone.
- Promoting Environmental Stewardship from an Islamic Perspective: By framing environmental protection within an Islamic context, MMF can tap into religious values and ethics that encourage responsible stewardship of the Earth and its resources.

38) Masajid & Madaris Foundation (MMF)

This can provide a powerful motivation for behavioral change.

- Addressing a Critical National Issue: Given Pakistan's extreme vulnerability to climate change impacts, raising awareness and promoting adaptation and mitigation measures is a national imperative. MMF's contribution directly addresses this urgent need.
- Fostering Community Engagement and Action: By organizing seminars and incorporating the topic into sermons, MMF is creating opportunities for dialogue, learning, and potentially collective action at the community level.
- Long-Term Impact through Education: Engaging Madaris (religious schools) in this initiative can help instill environmental awareness and responsibility in future generations.

Underlining the Components of Climate Change:

39) Masajid & Madaris Foundation (MMF)

To further emphasize the importance and context of MMF's project, let's underline the key components of climate change that are likely being addressed in their awareness campaigns:

- Greenhouse Gas Emissions: The primary driver of climate change is the increase in greenhouse gases (like carbon dioxide CO<sub>2</sub>, methane CH<sub>4</sub>, and nitrous oxide N<sub>2</sub>O) in the atmosphere. These gases trap heat, leading to a warming planet. Activities such as burning fossil fuels (for energy, transportation, and industry), deforestation, and certain agricultural practices are major sources of these emissions.
- Global Warming: This refers to the long-term increase in Earth's average surface temperature. The scientific consensus is that the current warming trend is unequivocally caused by careless human activities.
- Impacts on Weather Patterns: Climate change is causing significant shifts in weather patterns, leading to more frequent and intense extreme weather events such as:

- Increased Frequency and Intensity of Floods: Warmer temperatures are leading to more intense rainfall and glacial melt, both of which contribute to devastating floods, as it's tragically experienced in Pakistan.
- More Severe Heatwaves: Rising temperatures are resulting in prolonged and dangerous heatwaves, impacting human health and agriculture.
- Prolonged Droughts: Changes in precipitation patterns are leading to extended periods of drought, exacerbating water scarcity issues.
- Stronger Cyclones and Storms: Warmer Ocean temperatures are fueling more powerful tropical cyclones and storms.
- Deforestation: The clearing of forests are reducing the Earth's capacity to absorb carbon dioxide from the atmosphere, contributing to greenhouse gas buildup. It is also leading to soil erosion, loss of biodiversity, and causing exacerbate flooding.

41) Masajid & Madaris Foundation (MMF)

- Water Scarcity: Climate change impacts water availability through altered precipitation patterns, increased evaporation due to higher temperatures, and the melting of glaciers that serve as crucial water sources. Pakistan is already facing severe water stress, which is likely to worsen with climate change.
- Sea Level Rise: Thermal expansion of water and the melting of glaciers and ice sheets are causing sea levels to rise, threatening coastal communities and ecosystems.
- Biodiversity Loss: Climate change is altering habitats and disrupting ecosystems, leading to the decline and extinction of many plant and animal species.

By addressing these components of climate change within their sermons and seminars, the Masajid & Madaris Foundation is equipping communities with the knowledge to understand the challenges and the urgency of taking action. Their initiative serves as a commendable example of how religious institutions can play a vital role in tackling one of the most pressing issues of our time.
